LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.
WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.
A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief.

Now a Day For Father, Dear Father

(BY THOMAS SHELBY)

It used to be "Father, dear father, come home with me now," the story being that father had enough to drink. Daddy used to be represented as all sorts of a bad 'un, with an ineradicable tendency to spend his wages instead of taking them dutifully home on Saturday night. Now it's "My father was a grand old man" and "Bin a rose on Daddy, dear."

That's what they are going to do with father now. No longer is he to be numbered among the despised of earth. The wind of public favor has veered around toward much abused dad, and he is to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle him. Why, he's to have even a day of his own—the third Sunday of every June. On that glad day sermons are to be preached for daddy's glorification, he is to be relieved from his usual duty of helping mother to dry the dinner dishes, and we are all to wear roses in his honor. Happy day for dad!

While mother's day, the second Sunday in May, mothered by Miss Anna Jarvis, of Philadelphia, has a few years' history behind it and is steadily spreading its influence throughout the United States, father's day is a product of the present year. Credit for it must be awarded to Mrs. John B. Dodd, of Spokane, Wash. She is the "mother of father's day." Her suggestion that a day be set aside in her own city in honor of father met with instant recognition and favor in Spokane, and the city churches fell in line with remarkable unanimity. Father's day, 1910, met with a great success in Spokane.

Mother's day has its white carnation, the emblem of mother, Father's day has its rose, colored for the father who is still in the land of the living, white for the father who has passed away. If you wish to give outward evidence of honor and respect for the father who held you lovingly in his arms when you were a baby wear a rose on father's day, the third Sunday in June, and use your efforts to have your preacher deliver an appropriate sermon on that day. It is suggested also that the showing of some little attention to father if he is still in the land of the living or a visit to his grave if he is dead will be an appropriate feature of the day's observance.

As a long time will elapse before the next observance of father's day, perhaps it might be well to consider how father himself views it. Does he want to be singled out as an object of adulation for doing his duty as a daddy, or does he believe that the simple consciousness of having performed that duty is reward enough? Perhaps the testimony that their efforts are appreciated by the children whom they have helped to rear will be a sweet savor in the mouths of the majority of fathers whose bowed backs and grayed or silvered hairs bear witness to years of toil cheerfully and and patiently borne for their offspring.

The words of Governor Hay, of Washington, who was asked to express an opinion of father's day may sound good to many fathers. He wrote:

"Now as to father's day movement while, of course, I do not disapprove of the movement in any way still I feel that mother's day is the more important of the two and that we fathers can scratch along some way or other without having such a flattering mention of us. We men are somewhat basul and might feel much embarrassed were we to receive so much public adulation."

Speak up, fathers of the nation. Would a word of loving praise for you be amiss once a year, or would you prefer that your efforts pass unnoticed and unrewarded save by the approval of your own conscience?
